DAN MURPHY GIVEN BIG WELCOME

Headed by Tubbs' Band He was Escorted by Thousands to Poli's where Dr. Harriman Presented Him a Fish-

Friday was "Danny Murphy night" in Norwich, and the city arose with a most notable burst of enthusiasm to welcome home the heavy-hitting right fielder of the Philadelphia Athletics, whose smashing drives with the stick and phenomenal fielding performances in the recent series did so much to humble the Chicago Cubs and win the basebail championship of the world for this season. The Poli theater management hit the nail on the head when they hung in front of their theater in blazing electric letters the keynote of the night:

ance in high class vaudeville. He felt it a pride and satisfaction to compliance with the invitation of the con-mittee in charge to express the cordial greeting which the people felt for their townsman, Danny Murphy. This spontaneous burst of welcome, these illuminations and this immense nudlence were indeed a welcome to make any heart swell with pride, but they were more than that. For they were a tribute of the great body of the American people of their admiration for clean, manly, scientific sport and particularly for our national game of baseball. Men and women admire the expert player and where will you find a more expert or scientific exand doubles and a home run (great applause).

Combined with his brilliancy in the combined with his brinancy in the field, it meant that when this most remarkable series of games was wrif-ten up in the history of baseball, the feats of Danny Murphy would con-tribute some of the most spectacular features. In scoring runs himself and bringing in others of the Athietics, Murphy had been accountable for more runs than the Chicago team had amassed in the entire series, and Counsellor Edward T. Burke, that wisest of home fans, had doped it out

Dr. Harriman then bestowed a few words of praise on the local committee in charge of the arrangements and presented to Danny Murphy on behalf of the home fans a handsome fishing outfit, consisting of an A No. 1 ninefoot Bristol steel rod, six sections, agate tip and guides, with reversible handle, patent automatic self winding reel and a fishing basket.

lined up behind and the parade started, headed by Tubbs' band of twenty places. With Mr. and Mrs. Murphy rode Dr. P. H. Harriman, who was later to make the presentation in the theater.

Red and green fire, Roman candles and other pyrotechnics lit up the streets from end to end of the procession, which was watched by thousands from the site.

ADVISES BOILING CITY WATER

Superintendent Corkery Believes this Precaution should Be Taken when Used for Drinking-Well is Down 100 Feet.

Supt. J. J. Corkery of the water department stated on Friday that the well house at Fairview had been cleared of a large quantity of debris which had fallen to the bottom when workmen had been engaged there at different times. A large weight of over 300 pounds, used for raising the strainer, or other purpose, was found at the bottom as well as several tools which had been used to cut the ice from about the well house. The eightinch pipe is now cleared and the strainer will be placed thereon so that it can be used any time desired. Because of the low water and the fact that it is coming now from the bottom of the pond, it is the advice of Superintendent Corkery that all city water used for drinking purposes should be boiled. This is a precautionary method which should be carried out to protect the health of the city. Residents of Jail Hill are making complaint that they are not able to get water, the pressure being so small that it cannot be forced up orations were arranged around the city in honor of the weicome home.

At the Boston store Decorator Morgan Cronin had a window effectively arranged, showing a picture of Murphy in fielding posture. Around it were American flags, and in the window were displayed bats, gloves, a blue 1910 world series pennant and a model of a baseball on which was printed: "A great batter, but we welcome him because he is a home runner."

At the Y. M. C. A., where Murphy is a member, using the gymnasium for his early spring training, the American his early spring training, the American flag was out. Fagan's Smoke Shop showed pictures of Murphy, and other places showed their participation by window decorations. The Auditorium was a blaze of red-

Toastmaster Cronin.

Morgan Cronin acted as toastmaster when the cigars were reached, and nearly all present spoke brifley. Danny Murphy took occasion to thank most cordially the Norwich delegation. Jack-o'-lanterns, paper witch's caps and pumpkins were used freely in the decorations and there was an attractive campfire.
